From the Principal

Last week I returned from leave after a wonderful family holiday and also spending time with my father who was quite ill. As I walked into the school after four months away was a wonderful and uplifting experience. To see how the school has been transformed was worth the pain of being relocated from the original classes for the past year. The staff in my absence have done an amazing job in getting the school completed to where it is today. To have a welcoming entrance and quality facilities for the students, staff and wider community is what this community deserves and I am very proud of the school we have and the necessary changes we have made.

It has been heartening to walk through the classes to see just how settled and cooperative the students are and to see how the teachers have worked hard to develop some exceptional learning habits and practices around the school. We have exceptional teachers at our school who work tirelessly to ensure we have a safe and educationally challenging environment. This engagement with students and the quality of our teaching brings me back to our Mission Statement: To teach students to be positive, inspired global citizens, by cultivating a safe, engaging and creative learning environment.

Next week is National Science Week with some great community activities happening around the state. Our staff have been engaging in science based activities and will have a focus on these during the next week. If you are interested in the events happening around the state please follow this link <https://www.scienceweek.net.au/>

I look forward to catching up with parents and carers in the near future and please feel free to pop in and have a look around the new facilities.

Kind regards

Ted Barrance

Kinder News

Kristin McCutcheon from the Parks and Wildlife Travelling Schools Program visited our classroom to support our inquiry about our most precious resource, water. We discussed our understanding of ocean life and brainstormed our favourite ocean creatures. Sadly, we heard about deceased birds with stomachs full of plastic. This led to a discussion about what belongs in the ocean. Finally, we all participated in an experiment to find out how rubbish gets into our local waterways and oceans. We set up a system of pipes to show what happens when it rains and how the rubbish gets into the pipes and out to the oceans. We brainstormed what we should do with our rubbish. Universally, the Kinders agreed that rubbish should not be dropped on the ground and needs to be sorted. Some rubbish can be recycled or re-used and the rest goes in the rubbish bin. We also talked about how to reduce our rubbish. A big thank you to Kristin and Parks and Wildlife for working with us.
